Pensions Made Simple: How your pension works

00:05

A pension with Local Government is an easy way to save for life after work.

00:10

It's a Defined Benefit pension,

00:13

which means that it's built up by using a fixed formula.

00:17

This gives you a secure and guaranteed income every year

00:21

when you stop working.

00:23

It works like this.

00:25

Every year you build up a pension based on a fraction of your salary.

On screen: One 49th of your salary

00:29

This is paid into your pension account.

00:32

At the end of the year, this is added to your total from previous years and re-valued to make sure it keeps up with the cost of living.

00:37

00:41

When you take your pension in later life,

00:44

the total in your account is paid to you as your annual pension

00:49

and you can choose to swap part of it for a tax free lump sum.

00:54

If you leave your job before retirement, you have two choices.

01:00

You can keep your pension account,

01:01

though you won't be able to pay into it any longer.

01:04

This is known as a deferred pension.

01:07

Or you can transfer it into another pension.

01:11

However, if you leave within 2 years,

01:14

you will normally be able to claim a refund of your contributions.
